New Agreed Syllabus for Religious Education for Sutton Primary schools.

Members of the Sutton SACRE Committee and Sutton Agreed Syllabus Conference have considered many details during the revision of the syllabus and are now pleased to present the Agreed Syllabus. It is designed to provide a coherence in learning through a child's school career as well as detailing considerable high quality support to specialists and non-specialists alike in their planning of effective RE lessons.

Religious Education allows children and young people to help build their identity and to understand the religious practices and the cultures of others, and how they relate. This will help to support them to grow and develop into active members of their communities. It will also lead towards tolerance and understanding of others. A supplement for Key Stage 3 and 4 will be produced in 2016.

The syllabus is available on the Sutton website.
